| We wish to deliver two LGBT+ awareness training sessions to organisations in Kenilworth. Over the last 12 months we have been in discussions with the Kenilworth Centre regarding Warwickshire Pride delivering this type of training. There is a strong wish from a lot of organisations to attend such training. However, things have stalled and there is no lead organisation taking responsibility for booking and paying for the training. Therefore, we want to make it easy for these organisations by saying we have some funding to put on two training sessions with a daytime and an evening available. The training will be open to all types of organisations - businesses, charities, Continue overleaf if required. |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | community groups, and Kenilworth Town Council.

The training will cover:

- Terminology and identities
- Issues faced by LGBT+ people - looking at what is happening in Kenilworth
- Equality legislation and complying with it
- Hate crime
- The joys of being LGBT+
- How to make your organisation inclusive and accessible for LGBT+ people
- How to be an ally to the LGBT+ community

Each training session will be three hours long, with opportunities for group work and discussion. Each participant will receive a copy of the slides used during the sessions and a glossary of LGBT+ terminology.

The grant will pay for the facilitator's time. We have been offered use of The Kenilworth Centre to deliver the training.

There is a real appetite for more LGBT+ awareness and initiatives in Kenilworth. Over the last two years we have expanded our presence in the town and worked to develop positive links with a number of people and organisations in the town. For example, former Mayor of Kenilworth, Sam Loudon-Cooke, chose Warwickshire Pride as one of her charities. This provided us with an opportunity to network with other key players in the town and explore what is needed in Kenilworth for the benefit of LGBT+ people.

With many LGBT+ people saying they would never go out to Kenilworth and LGBT+ people who live in Kenilworth saying they prefer to go out elsewhere, there is a huge opportunity to deliver training to various organisations to help them become more inclusive and accessible.
